John Carter of Mars (collection) (Redirected from John Carter and the Giant of Mars) Jump to navigation Jump to search. John Carter of Mars is the eleventh and final book in the Barsoom series by American writer Edgar Rice Burroughs. It is not a novel, but rather a collection of two John Carter of Mars stories.

“John Carter and the Giant of Mars,” is a juvenile story penned by Burrough’s son John “Jack” Coleman Burroughs, and claimed to have been revised by Burroughs. It was written for a Whitman Big Little Book, illustrated by Jack Burroughs that was published in 1940 and then republished in Amazing Stories the next year.

John Carter and the Giant of Mars is part of the famous Barsoom science fiction series, written by Edgar Rice Burroughs. Co-written with his son, John Coleman Burroughs, it follows the story of the adventurous Carter and the princess he loves, Dejah Thoris.

There, on top of the giant's head, fighting furiously with a synthetic man of Mars, John Carter found himself in one of the weirdest predicaments of his adventurous life. Pew Mogel was no mean swordsman.

John Carter of Mars This book, the last of ERB's Mars series, published after the author's death, contains the extraordinary chronicle of John Carter's trip to Jupiter, with the record of his adventures with that great planet's strange comrades-in-arms that he made among the many races of Jupiter.
