

Download Key Strategic Issues List Chief Of Staff Of The Army Special Interest Topics Academic Year 2014 15

This item: Key Strategic Issues List - CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE ARMY SPECIAL INTEREST TOPICS [Academic Year 2014-15] Set up a giveaway There's a problem loading this menu right now.

Part II of the Key Strategic Issues List (KSIL) presents issues submitted by the combatant commands, as well as Army commands and centers. Part III will contain issues submitted by our sister services.

The U.S. Army War College's Key Strategic Issues List (KSIL), which is developed in coordination with Headquarters, Department of the Army and major Army commands, helps insure that researchers fulfill this task by focusing on the most pressing strategic issues.

Part I of the Academic Year (AY) 2016-2017 KSIL, referred to as the Chief of Staff of the Army Special Interest Topics, consists of critical topics demanding special attention. A subset of these topics will be addressed by the USAWC as Integrated Research Projects. Part II: Army Priorities for Strategic Analysis, has been developed by the U.S. Army War College in coordination with Headquarters Department of the Army (HQDA) and Major Commands throughout the Army.

For over a decade, the USAWC has published the Key Strategic Issues List (KSIL) to inform students, faculty, and external research associates of strategic topics requiring research and analysis. A subset of these topics, designated as Chief of Staff of the Army special interest topics, consists of those which demand special attention.

For your reference, we provide the U.S. Army War College's Key Strategic Issues List (KSIL) for academic year 2018. The KSIL informs students, faculty, and external research associates of strategic topics requiring research and analysis.

On May 4, Army Chief of Staff General Mark Milley provided a rare public glimpse into his thinking about the future of the U.S. Army. One of your loyal columnists had the privilege of interviewing him during an event sponsored by the Atlantic Council, and asked him about many of the issues we've written about in previous columns and elsewhere.

Chief of Staff, U.S. Army Strategic Priorities 1. 38th Chief of Staff, U.S. Army CSA Strategic Priorities October, 2013 Unclassified Final Version, 16Oct13 2. The Army's Strategic Vision The All-Volunteer Army will remain the most highly trained and professional land force in the world.

The Chief of Staff of the Army directed his Strategic Studies Group to undertake a one-year research project to add greater depth to the Army's understanding of the implications of megacities to the future.

39th Chief of Staff of the Army We have the most skilled, ethical and combat hardened Army in our Nation's history. No matter where we are around the world, America's Soldiers are displaying courage, commitment and character.

Other Files :