MISS MAI, by Lewis MacLeod "Miss Mai" is a romantic memoir set in the final years of the Vietnam War. The narrator's progress as a naive draftee through the rigors of military training as an intelligence analyst inexorably lead him to the exotic streets of wartime Saigon. He meets Tuoi Mai under accidental circumstances and his life is altered forever after.

His interests in societal diversity and folkways are insatiable, and have led him to attempt mastery of a diversity of global languages, including such challenging tongues as Irish Gaelic, Arabic, and Hawaiian. His current residence is in the beautiful State of Oregon. Miss Mai is Lewis MacLeod's fifth novel-length work.

Miss Missile, A Love Story . Miss Missile wins 2008 Chantilly. ... I'm referring to Charlie Smith and Terry Propps' Miss Missile. Ok, I know this is supposed to be a history piece, but good history pieces don't always come from the '50s and '60s. The way I see it, history isn't always made decades ago.

Kitty and Mack: A Love Story Summary Mack, is a popular baseball prodigy. He is so good that he would even be able to go to the major leagues. However, with much hype about him being so great, he let it all go up to his head.

Despite the reality that Miss Saigon is nearly three decades old, the timeless love story now playing at the Kennedy Center still resonates with today's news and tugs on heartstrings as well. 'Miss Saigon' a Timeless Love Story || The Washington Informer
