The curator of NASA's art collection and the agency's chief historian have collaborated to put together this arresting collection of paintings, drawings, and sculptures representing more than 30 years of space exploration. From the Mercury flights to the Mars Pathfinder mission, artists interpret the sights and emotions of each journey.

Nasa And The Exploration Of Space: With Works From The Nasa Art Collection. From the earliest ages of exploration, artists have always been present to document both the dangers and the excitement of the unknown. In 1963, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, itself only a few years old, commissioned the imagination of a diverse group...

BACKGROUND. The Advanced Space Exploration Art works were not part of the official NASA Art Program. They are paintings commissioned by NASA for various calendars, posters, and printed publications. The NASA SPACE ART HOMEPAGE was created and adapted from official NASA publications by Jerry Woodfill, NASA, Johnson Space Center, Houston, Texas.
