Nineteen Eighty-Four is George Orwell's terrifying vision of a totalitarian future in which everything and everyone is slave to a tyrannical regime. Christopher Eccleston, Tim Pigott-Smith and Pippa Nixon star in this new drama, part of BBC Radio 4's 'The Real George Orwell' season - a Radio 4 journey that explores the disjuncture between the man who was Eric Blair and the writer who was George Orwell.

The Road to Nineteen Eighty-Four. He traces the impact on the novel of the provocative ideas of an American ex-communist, James Burnham, who predicted a world dominated by three tyrannical superstates. He finds out why Orwell saw some form of Western European Union as the best way to prevent Britain being swallowed by Big Brother.

Directed by Rudolph Cartier. With Peter Cushing, André Morell, Yvonne Mitchell, Donald Pleasence. In a totalitarian future society, Winston Smith, whose daily work is re-writing history, tries to rebel by falling in love.

Nineteen Eighty-Four (1954) Like all TV drama of the time, Nineteen Eighty-Four was broadcast live, but it made unusually extensive and imaginative use of filmed inserts - 14 in total. These sequences bought time for the more elaborate costume changes or scene set-ups, but also served to 'open out' the action - showing us both...
