Primary Care and Women. Healthcare for women in the primary care setting requires up-to-date, gender-specific knowledge regarding disease prevention and disease management. In addition, women often look to their healthcare provider for information to help them look and feel healthy throughout their life span.

As a federally qualified health center, RKM accepts Medicare, Medicaid, and private insurance. In addition, we offer a sliding fee scale for those who qualify. Our Women's Health team strives to provide dedicated, compassionate care to diagnose and treat your women's health concerns.

This practical and comprehensive guide will help primary care practitioners to deliver holistic women's health care to patients throughout different life stages. Contraceptive choices, infertility, pregnancy, and menopause are covered, along with specific diseases such as ovarian cysts, breast conditions, and ovarian cancer.
