

Download Zati Weaving Susan Barrett Merrill

Susan Barrett Merrill, the originator of the Zati mask, has released video features from the DVD for online streaming. The video features the work of Frank Ferrel, an Emmy-winning producer for Maine Public Television, and a former producer for Monitor Television. In addition, a video gallery of dozens of Susan's masks was created by Lincoln Clapp.

Zati book. Read reviews from world's largest community for readers.

Susan Barrett Merrill's Zati Masks constitute the fifth keyform in the Weaving a Life process - the mask is a symbol of identity, revealed in the wearer. Handwoven from handspun and home dyed wool and linen, felted on a headdress.

This is a compilation of two videos: Other Faces, by Frank Ferrel, and a gallery of masks by Lincoln Clapp, comprising 75 masks woven by Susan Barrett Merrill. The photos of masks are by William ...

Zati: The Art of Weaving a Life By Susan Barrett Merrill. 10 x 8 in; Softcover, matte lamination; 130 pages, full color printing; Samples of Our Work - Cookbook Samples - Children's Book Samples - Art, Textbook, and How-To Book Samples Client Testimonials

Sign in to like videos, comment, and subscribe. Sign in. Watch Queue Queue

Susan Barrett Merrill's Handwoven Zati Masks - Pinterest

Fiber sculptor, author and teacher Susan Barrett Merrill attended Harvard College in Cambridge, Massachusetts, studied art at the Aegean School of Fine Arts in Greece, earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in education and art from Goddard College in Vermont, and received a graduate degree from New Experimental College in Jutland, Denmark.

Posts about Susan Barrett Merrill written by fattoriafiberworks. At the Maine Fiber Frolic this year, while roaming around the various vendor booths, I overheard a woman explaining to a potential customer the principles behind Zati: The Art of Weaving a Life, by Susan Barrett Merrill, and the accompanying Journey Loom.

Other Files :